geneous people, with a single concept, let us say, of world conquest or conversely, of world peace. But truth to tell, we are not like that at all. We are a very mixed people, of many origins, of diverse regional attitudes, of many ideas and purposes. The idea of a national purpose, of a national goal, of a national target is entirely novel to our people, although there is a very firm statement of a national philosophy, issued before we became a nation. Vice President Nixon takes his theme for the national purpose from the Preamble of the Constitution and he states it to be

Banking

Today---

Sidewalks, parking lots and even airport runways are becoming the banking places of the nation. Surveys show that some banks are doing as much as 75 per cent of their business at outside tellers' windows. The average is nearly 25 per cent for institutions having such facilities. Walk-up and drive-in banking is changing the country's banking habits. Outside windows relieve congestion on the bank floor at peak periods and help move local traffic, too.

Town of Olive Running Picnic On Labor Day

For the 47th year residents and former residents of the Town of Olive will gather on Labor Day to hold their Town of Olive Reunion and Labor Day Picnic. As usual the affair will be held at Friedberg's Grove near Onteora School.

This event, which was inaugurated nearly a half-century ago as residents of the area were being removed from the area when New York City took over much of their fine farmlands, was designed as a "farewell" party for the people of the area. Instead it has lived as an annual means of old-time residents and new residents to gather and renew acquaintances and meet new friends. Approx-imately 250 people attended the affair last year.

The picnic gets under way shortly before noon, when families gather for a picnic lunch in the grove. Later there is a program of entertainment and

Central Hudson Completes New Line to Highland

Installation of pipe for the Central Hudson Gas and Electric Corporation's 16-mile natural gas transmission line from Kingston to Highland will be completed this week. The new line and associated equipment, representing an investment of about $1,100,000, is expected to be in service by the middle of

Work on the pipeline project, the largest single item in the local utility's 1960 construction program, started in mid-March with the clearing and grading of a route which generally parallels the west shore of the Hudson link together Central Hudson's two other major gas transmission lines, one running north from Tuxedo to Highland and the other running south from Selkirk to Kingston. It will complete the establishment of one continuous high pressure, high capacity transmission system be tween the company's connections with its two suppliers of natural gas, the Tennessee Gas Transmission Co. at the north and the Home Gas Co. at the south. It will also supplement the utility's existing Poughkeepsie-Highland-Kingston eight-inch transmission

A Central Hudson spokesman explained that completion of the new pipeline, along with the recent automation of gas system controls and equipment, will "add significantly to the efficiency and economic operation of the entire gas system. Installation of the new line also insures that, in an emergency, the entire gas system could be supplied from either of Central Hudson's two sources of natural gas.'

Installation of the new pipeline involved the laying of more than 1,300 tons of seamless steel The pipe had been precoated with coal tar enamel and asbestos felt to provide protection from corrosion. Laid in 40foot sections, it was joined by more than 2,000 individual welds and installed in ditches of from four to four-and-a-half feet in

WHICH FRIEND SENT THE PRESENT?

Dear Mrs. Post: I received a very lovely engagement present from a friend who signed the enclosed card, "Helen." It so happens that I have two friends the gift. I want very much to write a thank-you note for the present but I don"t know to whom I should write it. Will you please tell me how I can properly handle this situation without causing embarrassment to anyone?

Answer: As you evidently do not recognize the handwriting, the only thing you can do is to telephone the one you think is likely to have sent the present and ask her, "Did you send me the lovely whatever it was?'

Will Be Assigned To Class D Nine

Husky Mike Spada, possessor of a live fast ball, will try his baseball skill with the New York Yankees

Spada was signed to a Yankee contract early this week. He will report to the St. Petersburg, Fla. rookie training camp of the Bombers next year and then will be sent to Auburn of the Class D Pony League for his first assignment.

The son of Mr. and Mrs. Mike
Spada of 46 Crane Street, Spada attended Kingston High School and hurled for the varsity baseball team for three years. Spada's father is a well known local contrac-

Coach Al Gruner, baseball coach at Kingston High, when notified of Spada's signing, said:

'Several clubs have had an interest in Mike. He had a good year for us and his biggest improvement was in his attitude and all-round

Spada was signed by Pete Gabrian, the Eastern seaboard scout for the Yankees. He had also been looked over several times by Shine Kane, Yankee scout operat-ing out of Albany.

The future Yankee prospect has been playing this summer with the Saugerties Dutchmen of the Catskill Mountain League. At present, he is employed at the Governor DUSO sportswriters voted Spada an honorable mention berth on this year's all-star DUSO League team.

Rocky's Message Claims Benefits Given to Workers

ALBANY, N. Y. (AP) - New York State advanced the welfare of working men and women in the last year, Gov. Rockefeller claims in a Labor Day message.

The gains, he said in a statement Thursday, included a $1-anhour minimum wage, extension of workmen's compensation and unemployment benefits, and provision for retention of health insurance policies by workers who left their jobs.

The governor's statement came a day after the State AFL-CIO convention declared formally that the 1960 legislature had passed

The measure would set the minimum price support for milk used for manufacturing purposes at $3.22 a hundred pounds. This compares with the existing support level of $3.06.

Some sources said the President could offer reasons for rejecting the measure. One, they said, is the possibility that the new support would give milk processors a windfall on stocks for manufactured dairy products now on hand and processed from milk bought at less than the proposed new
